

"Every mansion one receives here is giving to the person as a result of his/her effort toward giving and helping one another on earth."

Are you giving appropriately? Start now! The Bible says; "give to him that asked of thee.(Mat5:42)"Give and it shall be given unto you.....for with what measure you mete is shall measure to you (Luk.6:38) start giving and helping others now before it's too late!

What is giving?

Giving is to provide, as a service. Why is giving? Because we were told to do so. (1Corr.16:2)

How then is giving?

There is a story of a woman who was not good in giving. Every Sunday during church service, while offering, she would go out to ease herself. She has been doing that up to the time she died. The only record of what she ever gave was one rotten fish. She only gave that out because she could not use it. She had a friend whose attitude was her exact opposite. This friend gave out only good offering; she helped the poor, widows, orphans, and the

"Every mansion one receives here is giving to the person as a result of his/her effort toward giving and helping one another on earth."

Are you giving appropriately? Start now! The Bible says; "give to him that asked of thee.(Mat5:42)"Give and it shall be given unto you.....for with what measure you mete is shall measure to you (Luk.6:38) start giving and helping others now before it's too late!

What is giving?

Giving is to provide, as a service. Why is giving? Because we were told to do so. (1Corr.16:2)

How then is giving?

There is a story of a woman who was not good in giving. Every Sunday during church service, while offering, she would go out to ease herself. She has been doing that up to the time she died. The only record of what she ever gave was one rotten fish. She only gave that out because she could not use it. She had a friend whose attitude was her exact opposite. This friend gave out only good offering; she helped the poor, widows, orphans, and the

Both of them appeared before the Lord for their rewards. The Angel that was assigned to lead them to their mansions started with her friend who always gave out very good and appropriate things. The Angel showed her the good reward she had earned while she was still on earth. It was very big, good and well decorated mansion; you would need to see it to believe it. When the other woman turns came, the Angel turn to her and said, "It's your turn, now follow me" "Wow!" She exclaimed "If my sisters mansions is like this, what about mine?" she said to herself. As they were living this beautiful place, going to a different place, the place looked terrible and had a very bad odor. "What do you mean sir? Where are we going to?" the

"Never mind, just follow me" The Angel replied. I am taking you to where I was told to." Suddenly, she remembered that she was bad on earth. "But sir, she asked one more times as the smell became more and more terrible, "don't you know that I have serve as a church committee for so long?" But the Angel didn't say anything. As they reached an apartment, the Angel point to that apartment and said; "This is your apartment." The woman looked furious out of anger she said "My apartment?" "Yes" the Angel replied, "You may open and see." As she opened the door, the place looked malodorous, unpleasant, unfavorable, vicious, rotten,

Both of them appeared before the Lord for their rewards. The Angel that was assigned to lead them to their mansions started with her friend who always gave out very good and appropriate things. The Angel showed her the good reward she had earned while she was still on earth. It was very big, good and well decorated mansion; you would need to see it to believe it. When the other woman turns came, the Angel turn to her and said, "It's your turn, now follow me" "Wow!" She exclaimed "If my sisters mansions is like this, what about mine?" she said to herself. As they were living this beautiful place, going to a different place, the place looked terrible and had a very bad odor. "What do you mean sir? Where are we going to?" the

"Never mind, just follow me" The Angel replied. I am taking you to where I was told to." Suddenly, she remembered that she was bad on earth. "But sir, she asked one more times as the smell became more and more terrible, "don't you know that I have serve as a church committee for so long?" But the Angel didn't say anything. As they reached an apartment, the Angel point to that apartment and said; "This is your apartment." The woman looked furious out of anger she said "My apartment?" "Yes" the Angel replied, "You may open and see." As she opened the door, the place looked malodorous, unpleasant, unfavorable, vicious, rotten,